Position: Director of the José Ma. Morelos y Pavón Regional Center for the Defense of Human Rights, AC

Beneficiaries: More than 100 people, including women, adolescent girls, girls, and men.

Project period: January – June 2026

Amount requested for execution: $400,000.00, (18,331.80 Euros).

This project, implemented with Afro-Mexican communities, is innovative because Afro-Mexicans have recently been constitutionally recognized as part of the indigenous communities. Therefore, legally empowering women directly over their rights is essential because it not only supports and represents victims.

The violence experienced by women and girls in communities—ranging from gender-based violence, sexual violence, and domestic violence in general—involves intentional deaths presumed to be femicides, which have not yet been classified as femicides by the relevant authorities.

The lack of recognition of their identity, which leads to the lack of self-identification among residents of communities on the Costa Chica, is partly due to the historical discrimination they have experienced, and also due to a lack of awareness of the legal framework that recognizes the Afro-Mexican people and their rights.

This will be achieved through workshops that will reinforce the participants' knowledge of both the national and international instruments and laws that protect women, such as:

- * The United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous and Tribal Peoples.
- * The Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW).
- * The Convention on the Rights of the Child.
- * The Inter-American Convention on the Prevention, Punishment, and Eradication of Violence against Women (Belém do Pará), and other relevant international instruments.
- * The General Law on Women's Access to a Life Free of Violence, which requires the State to intervene directly to prevent any type of aggression against women and girls. * Law No. 553 on Women's Access to a Life Free of Violence of the Free and Sovereign State of Guerrero.
- * The articles of the Political Constitution of the United Mexican States and the Constitution of the State of Guerrero that recognize indigenous and Afro-Mexican peoples.
